College English course slated at ACHS this fall

Plans have been developed by Central Virginia Community College and Appomattox County High School to offer a college English course at ACHS during the 1984-85 school day for the session. Course content, materials and requirements will be commensurate with all college-level work. Students learn a variety of writing skills as they write research, expository and analytical papers. Each student successfully completing the course will receive credit for senior high school English and freshmen college English (three credits).

Some advantages of taking the course would include:

1. Gives students the chance to earn college credit without leaving the high school campus.
2. Upgrades a student's high school and college English program.
3. Accelerates learning.
4. Reduces education costs for parents and saves time and money for students.
5. Rewards achievement.

For evaluation purposes students will be graded on a ten point scale, e.g.; 90-100 is A; 80-89 is B, etc.

At present, only eight incoming seniors have shown an interest in the course. There must be an enrollment of at least twenty students in order to offer the class for 1984-85. The tuition and textbook fee is $154.35 per student, which can be paid in two equal installments. The first installment would be due on July 10.

All interested seniors for 1984-85 and/or parents are encouraged to contact either Mrs. Harris or James at Appomattox County High School or the high school administration office for information and application.
